FULL RESOURCE LIST

In partnership with community leaders, the Resilient Children/Resilient Communities (RCRC) Initiative analyzes, recommends and implements procedures, training, and guidance to help build child-focused community resilience to disasters. The RCRC Toolbox is a dynamic collection of resources developed and curated throughout this initiative for the benefit of those working to make our communities and our children more resilient to disasters. This collection of tools and resources should be shared widely with communities nationwide.

Children of Puerto Rico and COVID-19: At the Crossroads of Poverty and Disaster

The COVID-19 pandemic will affect this generation's children for years to come. Long-term health and economic stressors will impact the systems which raise, educate, and nurture children, and threaten to set families back who may already be struggling with the compounding effects of poverty and exposure to previous disasters.

In response to growing concerns, NCDP, in collaboration with the Institute for Youth Development (IDJ) and the Puerto Rico Children and Youth Task Force (CYTF), held a seven-part webinar series titled the "Children of Puerto Rico and COVID-19: At the Crossroads of Poverty and Disaster".
